

As a ham radio operator and a member of a radio astronomy group I am very concerned that BPL systems will cause increased noise levels on many bands that are used to receive weak signals from amateur radio satellites and cosmic radio sources. Those of us who use these bands already have large problems with noise. The FCC can't allow BPL